What we do

Develop individual health / behaviour plans.

- Promote the use of health action plans so they are recognised and used by all services.
- Mental capacity / best interest assessments, where appropriate
- Offer support with access to mainstream health services.
- Occupational therapy support / advice and skills assessment to enable people to achieve activities of daily living independently.
- Physiotherapy assessments to promote mobility, posture, function and independence.
- Speech and language assessments and interventions to support communication and eating and drinking.
- Psychiatric medical reviews.
- Psychology assessments, support and therapy.
- Learning disability assessments (diagnostic assessments).
- Work directly with individuals, carers and family.
- Provide intensive support for people with behavioural issues.
- Dietetic assessments and recommendations on what to eat and drink for improved health and wellbeing

We work together with other services including GPs, district nursing teams, adult social care, providers and carers, benefits, housing and tenancy support, specific support groups, education providers, dentists and other health care professionals to offer the best support

Future plans are further development of the Intensive Support teams to support the reduction of reliance and/or admission to inpatients and use of out of area placements in line with the Transforming Care Programme.

Also continuing to develop local knowledge/intelligence regarding high risk cases, through development of the 'At risk of admission register'
